

EDW. RIDLEY & SONS,

Grand, Allen, and Orchard Sts., N. Y.

"All roads lead to Rome," quoth an old Latin orator, and every road was thronged with travelers to the Eternal City, full of zeal and perseverance, for which the old Romans were famed. Pilgrimages in those days were no doubt as beneficial as in our more modern times, and travel is, as it always has been, an admirable remedy for over-fastidiousness and prejudices. One who never leaves his own country is invariably full of prejudices, which visits to other lands remove and give character and a liberality to our knowledge.

Pilgrimages in shopping are also beneficial. Sedentariness is as hurtful as disease, and those who stay at home and continually trade in a narrow circle read but one page of the history of the shopping world, which is now a great book.
